

PRESS TEXT LILABUNGALOW

Lilabungalow means serious business.

It is no longer enough to scratch the surfaces of listening habits or to sing empty lyrics to people. What is needed is connection and that needs clarity. Jacob Müller (bass), Claas Lausen (drums) and Patrick Föllmer have found each other as Lilabungalow over the last 3 years. The sound has become more direct, still pop, still international and still a hybrid form of handmade music and electronics. What has changed is the band's self-image. Music is connection in community and not a consumer-oriented show. The German lyrics also fit this. Without clichés and phrasal bullets, Patrick Föllmer at the microphone opens the space for "looking inwards".
